Re: Supplemental Response – Prisoner Transportation Services, LLC (“PTS”)

Dear Senator Warren, Senator Booker and Congressman Deutch:

In response to the request of Zak Doenmez, Legislative Correspondent for Senator Elizabeth Warren, please allow this letter to supplement the initial response of PTS provided on March 14, 2019 to your letter of February 27, 2019. Although certain of the documents and some of the information specifically requested by your letter cannot be provided in the timeframe required or are subject to ongoing litigation, PTS remains committed to cooperating with your inquiry and providing meaningful responses to your questions.

To that end, PTS hereby supplements its initial response as follows:

1. PTS is aware of five (5) individual inmates that have died in its custody over the last sixteen (16) years (2003 – 2019). The circumstances, even though in some respects disputed, have been previously and publicly reported on concerning the deaths of Steven Galack (2012), Denise Isaacs (2014), William Weintraub (2014), William Culpepper, Jr. (2016) and Kevin Eli (2017). In addition, a sixth inmate, Carson Eldridge, passed away at Wellstone Kennestone Hospital on or about January 3, 2019 as a result of pancreatic cancer.

2. While PTS is not able to provide data going back more than eleven (11) years on the number of inmates that have experienced a “medical emergency” or required “medical attention” while in its care, it has sought to continue to update and improve its policies and procedures and training of its agents regarding such. Furthermore, responding to these requests would thus be impractical given [a] the length of the time period requested and the hundreds of thousands of inmates that have been transported during such time and [b] that there are no agreed-upon definitions or methodologies for what would qualify as a “medical emergency” or needing “medical attention.” Notwithstanding these limitations, enclosed as Exhibit A are the applicable policies and procedures regarding the collection of information about the medical needs of individuals in the custody of PTS and the handling and administering of prescription medications and reporting medical emergencies.

3. PTS is aware of six (6) individual inmates that have reported being sexual assaulted or abused while in the custody of PTS. Enclosed as Exhibit B are the applicable policies and procedures regarding sexual assault.

4. With respect to the requested contracts between PTS and any federal, state or local law enforcement agency for the transportation of arrestees and prisoners, since 2016, PTS has provided transportation services to more than 1,500 law enforcement agencies. Such contracts can be [a] required as a part of the procurement process (attached to a request for proposal or procurement process); [b] proposed by PTS as its contract; [c] negotiated from the basis of PTS's form contract; or [d] incorporated into a purchase order. While it would be unduly burdensome, if not impractical, to locate and provide copies of all of these contracts, attached as Exhibit C is PTS's form contract.

5. PTS does not hold any contracts with private prison companies for the transportation of arrestees and prisoners.

6. PTS is regularly audited by the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Association whereby PTS's safety management controls are reviewed to ensure compliance with applicable Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations, Hazardous Materials Regulations, and related record-keeping requirements. In addition, the company periodically engages a DOT consultant for various internal reviews. PTS also engages the services of a consultant to review driver logs daily in order to help ensure that DOT drive times are being followed (taking into account that prisoners must be housed in a facility that has room to house and will accept the inmates). The last audit of PTS was in the Fall of 2016 and PTS received a satisfactory rating, the highest rating awarded. Finally, in addition to the investment in Electronic Logging Devices by PTS, over the last two (2) years, the company has invested, and continues to invest, significantly in technology, including developing proprietary software systems to help monitor and review agent vehicle operation.

While PTS operates in an extremely complex industry, and under difficult circumstances, it strives day in and day out to conduct business in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations, industry standards and internal policies and procedures. It is important to understand that many of the complaints that have been levied against PTS, or the incidents that have occurred with inmates in its care, are not unique to private transport companies. Similar issues are routinely experienced by the United States Marshalls and throughout the federal prison transportation system. Despite the challenges of this industry, safety and compliance are of the utmost importance to us. We are committed to doing things right and being an industry leader in developing and implementing best practices as this industry grows and evolves.

As we previously conveyed, PTS appreciates your willingness to better understand the issues surrounding the private prisoner transportation industry. We are more than willing to meet with you in an attempt to engage in a meaningful discussion about how to further improve this important function serving the state and local law enforcement community, while ensuring that inmates, agent staff and the general public are protected.

Should you have questions, need additional information or prefer to meet or discuss further, please do not hesitate to contact me at (615) 352-9798.

Sincerely,

Joel Brasfield
President, Prisoner Transportation Services, LLC

Exhibit A

Medical Treatment

Any prisoners who are injured while in US Corrections custody will be afforded adequate medical treatment as soon as it is safe and practical to do so, including any emergency medical transport and treatment.

Maintaining Control of Subjects in Custody

US Corrections Officers will maintain control of all prisoners in their custody at all times.

- At no time will prisoners be allowed outside of the secured prisoner compartment of the transport vehicle without adequate officer supervision.

When escorting prisoner(s) to or from the transport vehicle, officers should walk behind the prisoner(s) in order to maintain visual control. In cases where multiple prisoners are being moved to or from a transport vehicle, prisoners will be instructed to walk in a single file line with at least one officer at the rear of the line.

When escorting male and female prisoners to or from the transport vehicle, female prisoner(s) will be placed at the rear of the single file line with at least one officer at the rear of the line behind the female prisoner(s).

- At no time will prisoners be allowed to loiter in sally ports or booking areas of correctional facilities we are visiting. When officers must take prisoners into those areas, the prisoners will be instructed to line up on a wall or other area as permitted by the facility in order to maintain control and minimize US Corrections' impact on that facilities operations.

Violent or Combative Prisoners

In cases where prisoners become violent or combative, every effort should be made to protect officers and other prisoners from injury. Whenever possible violent or combative prisoners should be placed in a secure "segregation" area of the prisoner compartment so they may not have the opportunity to injure other prisoners.

In cases where a "segregation" area is not available in the transport vehicle, officers may use reasonable force in accordance with the law and US Corrections directives to establish control of the violent or combative prisoner.

- At no time will officers move prisoners to the non-secure compartment of a transport vehicle such as the bunk area or passenger seat to free up a segregation area. Prisoners may ONLY be transported in the secure prisoner compartment of the transport vehicle.

Prisoner Medication

Purpose

It is the purpose of this directive to ensure the health and welfare of prisoners in the custody of US Corrections who have medical conditions requiring medications. This directive establishes guidelines to be followed by US Corrections employees when taking custody of and dispensing medications.

Policy

It is the policy of US Corrections, LLC to take custody of and dispense, as directed, any approved medications prescribed to prisoners that have been medically screened and approved for transport. Medications taken on board any US Corrections transport vehicle will be stored in a secure area away from the prisoner compartment and access will be restricted except from authorized personnel.

At no time will prisoners have access to their medications between prescribed doses, with the exception of:

- An asthma inhaler for asthmatics
- Nitro glycerin pills for prisoners with a heart condition.

Prohibited Medications

US Corrections will not take possession of or dispense certain powerful narcotics to prisoners in our custody. Narcotics such as powerful pain medication or sleeping pills will not be given to prisoners while in transit due to the increased risk of in custody death.

Transportation Requirements

Due to the unpredictable nature of extradition operations, all prisoners taken into custody by officers of US Corrections should have a 10 day minimum supply of prescribed medications.

In cases where a prisoner may be travelling extended distances that may result in more than 10 days in US Corrections Custody, officers should request additional medications to ensure the prisoner has enough medication for the duration of his or her trip.

Dispensing Medications

At no time will officers deviate from the directed dose when dispensing medications. When dispensing medications to prisoners, officers will dispense the medications only as directed on the packaging or as described in the provided medical paperwork.

All medications given will be documented on the prisoner status report with the time, date and dosage given.

US Corrections
Directive Manual

The officer dispensing the medication will initial the appropriate block on the prisoner status report and the prisoner will be asked to sign for all medications given or refused at the time of delivery to the destination agency.

Medications Not Provided

In those instances where correctional facilities do not provide medication for prisoners being extradited, officers should request a prescription from the facility's medical department. Any prescriptions are to be filled at the nearest retail pharmacy and may be done at US Corrections' expense.

- If the facility does not provide either the prisoner's medication or a prescription, officers should contact their trip manager to determine the appropriate course of action.

In general; US Corrections will not take custody of or transport prisoners without required medications. These situations should be handled on a case by case basis considering the type of medication and the illness it is needed for; as well as the duration of the prisoner's travel to his or her final destination.

Insulin Dependent Diabetics

Prisoners requiring daily doses of Insulin will be flown or handled as a medical "flex" move whenever practically possible. Moves of insulin dependent prisoners over ground are generally discouraged and will be considered on a case by case basis.

Factors to be considered:

1. Duration of trip and distance travelled (Within 100 mile ground move limit)
2. The type of insulin the prisoner is using
3. The method by which the insulin is taken (syringe or auto injector, etc.) and;
4. Any other medical conditions that the prisoner may have that could contribute to a medical emergency.

For those prisoners that are transported and require insulin doses from a syringe or auto injector, arrangements must be made for the prisoner to have the insulin administered prior to transport whenever possible. In other cases, such as emergencies the transporting officers are to go to the nearest hospital or stop at a secure correctional facility to allow the prisoner to inject his or her insulin if required. All stops to facilitate insulin injections will be documented on the prisoner status report with the date, time and location of the stop as well as the dosage the prisoner used.

When stopping at correctional facilities to allow a prisoner to inject insulin, the prisoner will be placed in a secure area such as a holding cell or medical ward. Medical staff should be requested to assist/observe if available.

US Corrections
Directive Manual

Prisoners requiring insulin will have their blood sugar levels checked prior to transport with a glucometer. Prisoners with unusually high or low blood sugar levels or prisoners who have a history of refusing to take their insulin will not be transported.

Asthma Inhalers

Generally, prisoners with asthma who are prescribed an inhaler, will be allowed to keep their inhaler on their person in order to use as needed. Asthma inhalers will be kept in a pocket or similar location that can be easily reached by the prisoner when needed.

Documentation

All medications provided to officers of US Corrections will be documented on the prisoner status report.

In cases where the medications are too numerous to be documented on the prisoner status report, a separate sheet of paper should be used and attached to the prisoner status report.

Officers will account for and verify every article of medication and list the number of pills or tablets provided for each prisoner. Each time medications are dispensed it should be documented on the prisoner status report.

Over the Counter Medications

Over the counter medications such as aspirin, ibuprofen, acetaminophen, etc. may be given to prisoners at the officer's discretion. Any over the counter medications given to prisoners will be given only as directed by the instructions on the packaging and will be documented on the prisoner status report in the same manner as a prescription medication with a description of the reason given.

US Corrections
Directive Manual

Medical Emergencies

Policy

If a prisoner becomes ill during transport and needs medical attention, Officers shall notify trip management and local authorities immediately.

- If the non-emergency number for local emergency personnel is known it should be used.
- If the non-emergency number is not known, officers should call 911 for assistance.

Officer Responsibilities

In the event of a medical emergency, the Officer's priority should be getting medical treatment as soon as possible. This may require contacting local authorities prior to notifying the US Corrections chain of command. When notifying the US Corrections chain of command Officers will use the "Emergency Phone Tree" included in this section of the manual.

When utilizing the Emergency Phone Tree, Officers will not jump the chain of command except on occasions when the person they are calling cannot be reached in a reasonable timeframe.

When speaking to local authorities or the chain of command, officers should remain calm and professional and relay the following information.

1. Identify themselves as an extradition officer transporting prisoners
2. Provide their current location
3. Describe the nature of the medical emergency

Officers shall coordinate with local authorities and medical personnel. If required, Officers will reroute to an appropriate secured facility to receive medical assistance.

If the Prisoner is experiencing a serious medical emergency and must be transported to a non-secure medical facility, such as a hospital emergency room, arrangements must be made with local law enforcement to respond in an effort to ensure appropriate security on the scene.

It is the policy of USC to provide necessary medical treatment to prisoners. Medical treatment may never be denied to a prisoner who is experiencing a bona fide medical emergency. Any employee who denies a prisoner medical treatment will be subject to termination, civil litigation and/or criminal prosecution.

Financial Responsibility

When a prisoner experiences a medical emergency and requires medical treatment, payment for any medical treatment provided will be the prisoner's responsibility. If the prisoner has insurance, that insurance information will be provided to US Corrections and passed on to the customer for resolution.

At no time will Officers provide US Corrections' contact information for the billing of medical treatment to a treatment facility without authorization from trip management.
